Do you run life science labs?

Lt LabStation may be exactly what’s missing from your current educational framework:

Developed using the same technology as Lt, our online learning solution, Lt LabStation gives you and your students a modern lab experience in a package designed to be beautiful, effortlessly capable and adaptable to your teaching style.

Lt LabStation gives you access to our media-rich life science education content with real time data recording and analysis when paired with PowerLab, our renowned data acquisition hardware.

Lt LabStation gives you the flexibility to incorporate our library of professionally developed content and experiments to suit your laboratory course, or create, edit and access your own lessons online from anywhere with a web browser, then export your lessons so your students can work offline in the lab.

“Lt LabStation is great - our students don’t need to make a profile or sign in, and labs aren’t dependent on an internet connection.”

- Charles Crawford, Teaching Assistant, Human Performance Laboratory, The University of Texas at Austin
